Miss Lennox Concert Coming Monday

For the concert to be held in the Community Hall next Monday evening, sponsored by the staff and students of Champion Consolidated School, the services of Miss Mildred Lennox, a very versatile and talented entertainer have been secured.

Miss Lennox is a Canadian artist, who has been favorably received in many Ontario towns and who is now making an extensive tour of the western provinces. She is pianist, vocalist and electrician. In one and displays marked ability in each of these capacities. Her programme for Monday evening will include piano-forte selections, readings, both serious and nonserious, from the works of such well-known authors as Robert Stead and Stephen Leacock; a child impersonation entitled, "As the Fairy," and vocal numbers among which are "My Dear Soul," "My Curly Headed Baby," "The Kerry Dance," and others equally interesting.

The programme on Monday evening will include also three local numbers—a violin solo by Miss Gladys Rhodes, a chorus by children of the public school, trained by Miss Wilson; and a dramatic sketch by three of the high school boys. The whole offers an evening of singularly attractive entertainment, which should receive enthusiastic support.

As a further inducement, delicious home-made candy will be offered for sale by the high school girls.

Tickets may be procured from the students—adults 50c, schoolchildren 25c.

Remember the time and the place—Monday, March 3rd, at 8:00 p.m., in the Community Hall.

P.T.A. Meeting Was Success

The P.T.A. meeting on Monday evening was well attended and a splendid program was presented under the supervision of Mrs. Guy Dow. Very tasty refreshments were served and a highly enjoyable evening was spent by the audience.

Card Party Drew Big Crowd

The card party held at the home of Mrs. Louis Fath on Tuesday evening under the auspices of the C.W.L. was a decided success, over forty being seated at the tables. The prize winners were Mrs. Tyler and B. Fath, while the consolation went to Miss M. Fath and Fred Glaze.

Blusson U.F.A. Organized

At an organization meeting held recently by the farmers of the Blusson district a U.F.A. local was unanimously endorsed and the following officers elected:

Constituency Director and Convener.—Harry J. Higgins.
President.—Harry J. Higgins.
Vice-President.—A. J. Miller.
Sec.-Treas.—Walter Willes.
Directors.—Norman Carlson, Harry McNaughton, Ed. Carlson, A. J. Miller, William R. McKee.

Regular meetings will be held the first Wednesday in each month at 8 p.m.

The meeting was most enthusiastic in every way and the number who joined at the meeting and afterwards would indicate that Blusson local will be heard from in the future.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank all those who showed kindness to me during my illness also the W.I., Elks, and C.W.L. for flowers sent.—Anthony Ash.

U.F.A. Meeting Wed., March 6

A.U.F.A. meeting held at Alston to consider the co-operative handling of gas, oil, distillate and other petroleum products, and addressed by T. S. Gregson and Mr. Johannesohn made such an impression on those present that a second meeting is called for the community hall, Champion for Wednesday, March 6th, at two o'clock in the afternoon in order to include as many as possible in the proposition which promises to make a big saving for individuals operating power machinery. T. S. Gregson and others will address this meeting and those interested should be present to hear the discussion on the question which is receiving a great deal of attention from farmers' organizations in all parts of the province.

Essay Contest For Schools

An essay contest open to all school children in Alberta from Grade VII up is being conducted in connection with the province-wide good health campaign under the auspices of the Canadian dental hygiene council, working in co-operation with the provincial department of public health and education, and the Alberta dental society.

For the purpose of this essay contest, the province has been divided into twenty-two districts and a prize of ten dollars will be awarded for the best essay in each district. These prize winning essays will then be submitted to the central committee at Edmonton and the one adjudged to be the best in the province will be awarded a further prize of twenty-five dollars. (25.00).

The subject of the essay is "Mouth Health" which is the title of a new bulletin just issued by the provincial department of public health. Essays must not exceed 750 words in length.

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde

Has the advent of the automobile so influenced individual that they now possess two sets of manners, one of which they use as pedestrians and the other as motorists? From observation of persons in the two roles, this seems to be the case. The man or woman who may be courteous itself when walking about among people sometimes is quite another person when driving. For example, who hasn't seen the man motorist who cuts in on women drivers, who murmurs uncomplimentary remarks about their inability to drive intelligently, who carelessly scrapes the side of another car in backing out of a parking space, and who appears to believe that a pedestrian has no rights whatsoever? This same man sometimes becomes a "beau gallant" the moment he leaves the seat behind the wheel. And who hasn't seen the woman motorist who seems possessed with a false sense of power as soon as she becomes the driver of her car?

All of which makes one wonder what subtle chemistry of thought works these changes, and whether people will accept this comparatively new phase of manners wrought by the automobile, or whether they will insist on good manners all the time.—Christian Science Monitor.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

With a large number of groups constituting their parliament the French people have the most unstable government in the world, to judge by the number of premiers used in the past few years. The last cabinet lasted about three days and while this is more or less of a record there has always been a disposition to change very frequently. The result may be satisfactory to the French people, but it is to be doubted if such a condition would appeal to Canadian. Still, we are making progress in this very same direction.

To read reports of the debates at Ottawa one might easily be led to believe that any depression existing at the present time was due to Dominion legislation and that a change of government would result in restoring good times practically in a breath. It seems almost a pity that this is political nonsense, and still there are people who pretend to believe it—perhaps some who really do. The majority, however, have no such illusion. The money lost in speculation and by holding grain for higher prices was not due to legislative interference, neither was the short crop nor the use of machinery to an extent that there was in slight demand the fault of any government. To look for relief to legislative interference is hopeless. Any attempts along this line have almost always been entirely ineffectual doing more harm than good. The remedy lies and always will lie with the individuals concerned.

Frequent expressions that March will come in like a lion so that it will go out like a lamb are heard. Belief in nursery rhymes and stories will persist in most minds with a tenacity that is really surprising, although most of them have proved by experience to have no foundation in fact. Just at present it looks as though a number of people in this vicinity must have spilled the salt on more than one occasion in the past few months.

Discussion of the proposed government highway along this line of railway, to be built with municipal assistance, gets a start now and then, but on the whole little is being said about it. A report is current that $30,000 will be required for grading purposes in this municipality, together with a larger sum for graveling. The location is supposed to be settled but many efforts will still be made to change it. It is to be hoped, however, that the matter of location will not interfere with the result of the vote on the necessary bylaw when it is submitted.

To Keep Cream Separator Clean

Recent experiments conducted by the Division of Bacteriology at the Central Experimental Farm have shown that solutions of hypochlorites are remarkably effective in the destruction of bacteria commonly encountered in milk cans and other utensils. Readily prepared by diluting the concentrated solution with cold water, the hypochlorite rinse bids fair to replace the old method of scalding, which was rarely effective on account of the large quantities of boiling water required to destroy the bacteria present.

The hypochlorite method is quicker, cheaper, more convenient and more effective, but the best results can be obtained only where certain conditions are fulfilled. The first of these is that the hypochlorite must be used only on utensils which have been thoroughly washed, since traces of milk residue or dirt quickly rob it of its germ-killing power. Again, it is important that the rinse be used in sufficient strength and allowed to remain in contact with the entire inner surface for a sufficient length of time. With the usual strength of rinse at least 15 seconds contact should be given, while a longer period will result in more complete destruction of the bacteria present. Finally, care should be taken to prevent corrosion of metal utensils, since most hypochlorites will attack the metal if left in contact with it for long periods. This possibility may be readily avoided by postponing the sterilizing rinse until immediately before milking, or else by inverting the utensils on a draining rack so that all remaining traces of moisture will evaporate as rapidly as possible.

The Chronicle

An Ailing

Are you prepared to render first aid and quick comfort to the young one who has an upset of any sort? Could you do the right thing—immediately—though the emergency came with out warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or the gentle relief of constipation; to allay a feverish condition, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vegetable preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is genuine Castoria. It is harmless to the smallest infant; doctors will tell you so.

You can tell from the recipe on the wrapper how mild it is, and how good for little systems. But come with Castoria while a child is young.

lady, as she watched the new-born move toward the house. Then the doctor looked up and waved to her, and in another moment was in the doorway.

"Well, Grandma," he began cheerfully, "this is John Carter. You see I kept my word and brought him in for you and Charmin to inspect. This is Grandma Davis, Doctor—Grandma to the whole town, and keeper of the village watchtower. We couldn't get along without her."

Grandma looked up and smiled, her eyes bright as a bird's, meeting those of the young man as he took her hand and bent above it in a deferential manner of a bygone day.

She was thinking: "Somebody taught him his manners, anyway, and respect for age." She said, motioning her guests to be seated, "I supposed it was the other way round, and you were to inspect. That's how Charmin put it. She's been cleaning the house from top to bottom, as if she thought you'd inspect the ice box and the attic," she added with a twinkle.

"Charmin's my granddaughter, as the doctor's most likely told you. She'll be here in a minute. She just ran over to Lizzie Baker's with a half a cup of cornmeal Lizzie sent her, to make a pudding for her supper. Seems as if Indian pudding would set out of heavy on the stomach, so I might, doesn't it?—but the Bakers can digest nappies or horsehoes, as my father used to say; and which you'll find true, your man, if ever he's called there—not that you will be, though, while our doctor has a leg to stand on."

"Hush!" laughed the old man. "Would you discourage him at the very start?"

"I'm only warning him," said Grandma. "Wickford folks are set in their ways, and you're one of 'em, Edward, if I do say it to your face. You'll think it's his direction, my calling the doctor by his first name," she added to the younger man, but we grew up together here in Victorian, and I'm not much older than he is though he's caught the habit of saying Grandma like the rest of them. Here's Charmin now. She's seen the automobile and is hurrying. That blue gingham sets pretty on her, doesn't it? She made it herself. Come to dearie. Here's the doctor and his young man."

Yes, the blue gingham certainly set pretty on her. This was the prospective bride's thought, as he rose, feasting his eyes on the vision in the doorway. The old doctor was smiling, as well as Grandma Davis might have been said to do the same. For Charmin made an astonishingly pretty picture, her cheeks flushed from hurrying, her blue eyes shining, a bit of not unnatural embarrassment making her pause a moment before coming forward.

"Charmin," said the doctor, putting a fatherly arm across her shoulders to draw her nearer, "this is the boy who's promised to help me out if you'll find him a place to live. I knew his father and his grandfather before him, and will vouch for the fact that he won't run off with the Davis candlesticks!"

Charmin laughed as she stretched out a friendly hand which the young doctor took, and forgot to return till the girl drew it away. She said, a smile bringing out the dimples of which her mother had been so proud: "He might not think them worth the bother! They're brass, not silver. Doctor, would you like to help me out now and see the rooms? The east room is larger; but the one in the ell looks toward the river and is very cozy."

"I really needn't look at anything," replied the young man impulsively. "I'll sleep in the attic, if only you'll take me in."

"Well," chuckled Grandma, "that's a clean, anyway! I told you you'd cleaned everything. You take him up attic, dearie, and show him how pretty it is from the south window. There isn't a nicer view in all Wickfield. But I don't see, young man, that the room over the kitchen is good enough for a guest. However, you can take your choice; and as Charmin says, it's easy to heat come winter."

As the young people left the room, the old doctor drew his chair closer to Grandma's.

"Well?" he questioned. "How does the boy strike you, Polly?"

"Dear me," sighed Grandma, a placed light brightening her eyes. "I don't believe anybody's called me Polly in twenty years. As for that boy, Edward, I like him. He's got manners—not that manners are everything, but they cover a multitude of sins. And he looks you straight in the eye, and he won't be shy. I'd never have considered taking him in. But almost the best thing about him is his legs. He walks like a soldier."

"Yes," laughed the doctor, "his legs seem to be all right; though I wish he were ten pounds heavier."

"Well, have to fat him up," commented Grandma. "His being here will make more work for Charmin, but she says she can stand it. Say, Edward (lowering her voice), 'have you seen that high-flyer that Jim Bennett took to the church stable?'"

"The doctor laughed again; but his reply was interrupted by the opening door, and a small boy entered hurriedly."

"It's Jamie Oldham," said Grandma. "You tell your mother that he's come home yet; or, as you were wanting something else."

"I want the doctor," panted the little boy. "The baby's got an awful stomach ache and Mummy says the automobile and sent me running. She said to tell you the baby's black in the face already, and for you to hurry."

"Like as not Busy Oldham's been feeding it mince pie," commented Grandma, as the doctor hurried away. "It's a wonder she's raised any of her children. I suppose Edward will come along with him. He's a good boy, but he's turned the baby upside down and given Busy a good talking to. I wonder which room the boy will take. It doesn't seem polite, somehow, to put him in the ell."

"The boy" was standing in the ell at that very moment, attracted by the beauty of a four-posted bed. "Yes, it's wonderful," said Charmin, tucking the carved posts lovingly. "My great-grandfather slept in it. Later it was put in the guest room, and when black walnut came into fashion it was banished to the servants' quarters."

"Delightful quarters for the humble," smiled the young man. "I think I'll choose this room if it's as convenient for you."

"It will be more convenient. It's smaller to care for, and easier to sweep because of the hardwood floor. That Turkish carpet in the east room is gorgeous, but it's a sight of work to look here!" said the doctor suddenly. "I won't have you cleaning for me. I'll have time enough at first, anyway, to take care of my own domain. I'm a dandy sweeper, and can make a bed as expertly as a trained nurse. Just try me!"

"What would Grandma say? She thinks it's frightful to even offer you this room where you used to sleep her hired girl. But I think it's a lovely room with its quaint dormers. Just see your view from this window! Isn't the river adorable from here? When I was a little girl I used to pretend it was a silver ribbon, put there by the fairies. I remember, too, how my fancy to Jimmy Bennett, and he was a good fellow."

laughed. I didn't forgive him for years and years!"

"No wonder!" responded John Carter with instant understanding. "Who is he? I'd like to smash his face for you!"

"You needn't bother," laughed Charmin. "In fact, I wouldn't have hurt him for worlds. Jim is the rising young man of our community, as you will soon learn; and at present is setting the town agog by running after a green hat."

Adds To Reputation

Astounding Discovery Has Been Made by Canon Astronomer

Dr. J. S. Plaskett, director of the astrophysical observatory, near Victoria, one of the world's most eminent astronomers, has added to his reputation of Canadian science and to his own fame by an astounding discovery concerning the movement of the world, the sun and all the heavenly bodies visible to mankind. For this achievement the Royal Astronomical Society has elected him to the rank of gold medal, which never before has been conferred on a Canadian.

Dr. Plaskett's newest discovery has been translated into unscientific language to mean that every star twinkling in the vision of the most powerful telescope is really a sun, surrounded by billions of miles beyond them, and rotating about a centre inconceivably distant from this earth.

The motions of the speck of matter known as our world thus are discovered to be far more complicated than has usually been supposed, although the theory now prevails.

Dr. Plaskett has been suggested as possible before. First, it is explained, the world rotates on its own axis in a motion which gives us night and day. This motion is at the rate of 28,000 miles in twenty-four hours. The world goes around the sun once a year, providing the change in seasons, this year being conducted at the rate of 66 miles a second. Thirdly, the earth moves with the sun in another circle, this being independent of the earth's rotation on its own axis, and is so far distant that light from there would take 47,000 years to reach the earth.

Travelling at inconceivable speed through space, all the heavenly bodies within men's ken are governed over distances which it is difficult for the human mind to comprehend. Dr. Plaskett estimates that it requires 400,000 years for the visible universe to complete its great journey around its distant centre. The movement is at the rate of about 500 kilometers a second, or some 200 miles. This is more than 2,000 times as fast as airplanes travelled in the Schneider Cup races recently when they broke all records for human travel.

Constantinople Is Dead

Even Name Has Been Abolished By Turkish President

Constantinople, the magnificent city of the Byzantine Emperor and the Turkish Sultan, has been condemned to death by Kemal Pasha. Not only are the streets no longer repaired and mosques and palaces are slowly crumbling away, but a decree by the President even abolishes the name Constantinople, this being considered a relic of the building program in Augustus, name Stamboul being the Ottoman capital of Russia, to its fate and concentrating upon Moscow, is followed by Kemal, who has instituted a new building program in Ankara where new parks and avenues are being laid out and where a certain amount of night life is developing following the opening of several cabarets and night clubs.

Russia Erecting New Mausoleum For Lenin

Elaborate Ceremonies Will Mark Dedication In October

Behind a great wooden fence, in front of Moscow's famous Kremlin, entirely screened from public view, hundreds of Soviet workers are entering down the grim wooden tomb in which Vladimir Ilich Lenin, "Father of Bolshevism," has slept during the last six years.

On this site is soon to rise a finer and more enduring mausoleum of granite and malachite to house the frail figure of the great revolutionary leader. While these operations are in progress, the embalmed remains of Lenin have been transferred to a special mortuary chamber in the Kremlin, where the coffin is guarded day and night by armed red soldiers.

On the ceiling, under which Lenin will repose in a large, hermetically sealed glass case, will be an armorial shield of the Soviet Union. Lenin will be garbed in a simple khaki suit of semi-military cut, as at present, and the full length of his body, bearing the order of the "Red Banner" will be visible to view.

Construction of the new mausoleum is progressing rapidly. It will be completed by October, 1930, when the thirtieth anniversary of the October Revolution will be celebrated with the most elaborate ceremonies will mark the dedication.

STORMY WEATHER

HARD ON BABY

The stormy, blustery weather which Canadians experience during February and March is extremely hard on babies and their whole system. Conditions make it necessary for the mother to keep her child in the house, whose rooms may be overheated and badly ventilated. The little ones catch cold and their whole system becomes racked. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the home and an occasional dose given, the baby to keep him fit, or if a cold suddenly grips him to restore him to health again and keep him in good condition till the brighter, warmer days come along.

Baby's Own Tablets are just what the mother needs for her little one. They are a mild but thorough laxative which regulates the bowels, sweetens the stomach, breaks up colds and simple fevers; banish constipation and indigestion and make the cutting of teeth easy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Back in 1700, the foundations of industrial medicine were laid when a doctor wrote a book of 41 chapters on "Diseases of Artificers and Tradesmen."

The Greatest Mystery

Needless Suffering

The next time a headache makes you stay at home—

Remember Aspirin! For there is scarcely any sort of pain it cannot relieve, and relieve promptly.

Those tablets give real relief, or millions would not continue to take them. They are quite harmless, or the medical profession would not constantly prescribe them.

Don't be a martyr to unnecessary pain. To odds that might easily be checked; neuritis, neuralgia; to those pains peculiar to women; or any suffering for which Aspirin is such an effective antidote.

You need not hesitate to take Aspirin. It is safe. It is always the same. It never depresses the heart, so you take as often as needed; but the cause of any pain can be treated only by a doctor.

"I thought the room over the kitchen would be easier to heat in winter."

"The idea!" snapped Grandma. "That's where I used to put my hired girl!"

"And it's the most comfortable bedroom in the house," retorted Charmin. "I had taken it myself long ago, if I hadn't wanted to be nearer to you. But let's not worry about that question. He can decide it himself when the doctor brings him in on Saturday. Perhaps after his inspection he'll have none of us."

"Well, well," Grandma repeated, "it'll be a great change. I don't know as I like the idea—hardly. He may be funny, and want milk in his tea instead of cream, like Deacon Purdy."

"Let's hope he does," laughed Charmin as she moved away. "I'll be that much cheaper feeding him!"

"Hush!" reproved the old lady. "Would you begrudge the poor man a dash of cream?"

It was a Sunday Saturday when the doctor's dusty car stopped before the old Davis house. Grandma, peering from the window as usual, drew a breath of relief as she viewed the stranger who stood beside Doctor Howe, and was, evidently, admiring the carved pineapple above the door.

Yes, he was young; she decided, but not too young. He was past the age when he would thoughtlessly track dirt into the house (if a man ever is past that age), and he wasn't old enough to be set in his ways—thirty surely. He probably wouldn't notice whether his tea contained milk or cream; and he had fine, straight legs. Grandma had once been wooed by a youth who was slightly knock-kneed, and as she told Charmin, after sixty years the remembrance still made her shiver.

"The Davises were all tall and straight," she continued. "That's one reason I took to your grandpa. There wasn't a knock-knee or a bow-leg in the family. They walked like soldiers."

"And he does, too," mused the old

BRILLIANT RITES AT OPENING OF FEDERAL HOUSE

Ottawa.—The fourth session of the 16th Parliament of Canada was opened with the ancient rites and ceremonies attendant upon this feature of the political life of the country. The Speech from the Throne forecast title in the way of opening legislation and in no sense a controversial document.

There is nothing in the speech likely to occasion a prolonged debate on the address in reply, but the gossip around the corridors indicates that this debate may extend over a week or two. In recent years the debate has been disposed of in two days at most, but this year many private members have prepared speeches and will participate in the discussion, if the party whips do not exercise a restraining influence.

The speech itself refers to the prosperity of the country, the investment of foreign trade by the appointment of new trade commissioners and the opening up of new steamship services. The progress being made on the great public works of the Dominion is alluded to, the Hudson Bay Railway is now nearly complete; the Welland canal now will be open to shipping, and the new lower lake terminal at Prescott really is taking form.

The speech was drawn carefully to leave the government uncommitted on the radio broadcasting report. This report, it is stated, will be submitted to parliament. The report of the commission on the salaries of mechanical workers also will be tabled.

In the way of legislation, the speech forecasts the bills to ratify the natural resources agreements with Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia, the revised Canada Grain Act, a bill dealing with the National Railways and other bills amending the Elections Act, the Bankruptcy Act, the Companies Act and the criminal code.

Record Entry For

Manitoba Winter Fair

Officials Are Looking For Additional Stabling Accommodations.

Brandon, Man.—Another record making entry has caused the officials of the Manitoba Winter Fair to look around for additional stabling accommodations. A year ago every available inch of space was used in the Arena buildings to take care of the horse entries, and some departments were cramped even after some of the stock had been taken care of in outside lots.

It is expected that the Hon. T. A. Cresser will open the show. If he is Minister of Railways, and member for Brandon, the fair will be even for a short time in March, he will probably attend the opening of the exhibition.

They are bringing back essential papers and gear, but their aeroplanes and much other material it has been necessary to leave behind.

Fleet did not enter the 200-mile race last year as he did not have enough dogs in training, but he was a competitor in the eight races. The Indian racer is expected to reach the Pas a week before the big final event in order to put his team through its final stages of training.

Drive Against Orientals

White Canada Association Asks B.C. Government For Campaign Fund.

Victoria, B.C.—The British Columbia Government was asked to ascertain the practicability of the removal from the country of all Asiatics and expropriation of all property owned by them upon payment of compensation.

In arguments presented before the agricultural committee of the legislature, it was stated that the elimination of the Oriental from British Columbia was the most pressing matter before the people today, and that the situation was grounds for a grant of $5,000 to the White Canada Association for a campaign fund to carry on an agitation for revision of British treaties which now bar restrictive local legislation.

The matter was brought before the committee of the advisory board of the Farmers' Institute, and was spoken to at length by A. B. Smith, of Cranbrook, secretary of the advisory board; C. E. Hope, of the Farmers' Institute, and J. P. Hampton Bole, grand factor of the Native Sons of British Columbia.

It was declared that the whites could compete with the Chinese but that the Japanese were another matter. Severage of competition caused the whites to drop out of an industry, it was declared by Mr. Smith. He said, however, that there was no lessening of output, but an actual increase. Orientals took up slack production.

"To them, it is a profitable business," he said. "They work longer hours, work longer hours, and are willing to work the whole family."

Mr. Hope asked the province to present in recent legislation on the subject of immigration, the bill to ratify the natural resources agreements with Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia, the revised Canada Grain Act, a bill dealing with the National Railways and other bills amending the Elections Act, the Bankruptcy Act, the Companies Act and the criminal code.

Will Request Change

In Banking System

Western Members Of Federal House Have New Plan

Ottawa, Ont.—Western members of parliament, gathered in the capital for the opening of the session, are keen to get on with public business, and in many cases will endeavour to get parliamentary approval of important reforms.

Perhaps the most coherent objective among western members is to bring about a change in the banking system, whereby a federal bank of discount would be set up and the present discount activities of the treasury board much curtailed, if not discontinued altogether.

The Alberta members are particularly insistent on action along these lines. It is held that the general credit situation and the gold position in recent months has proved the inefficiency of the present banking system and the need of a change.

Association In Against Prohibition Amendment, Demands Its Repeal

Washington, D.C.—Outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and a transfer to the states of the power to regulate intoxicating liquors was demanded by witnesses before the house judiciary committee which after a recess of several days has returned to the hearing of testimony for a change in the dry laws.

William H. Stoyan, chairman of the board of directors of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, asserted people throughout the United States had long regretted the government because of the prohibition law, and because it had lost its efficiency.

WHEAT POOL TO BE ESTABLISHED IN AUSTRALIA

Canberra, Aus.—A great wheat pool will be established in Australia. There is some difference as to whether it will be a Government-controlled body, or under the direction of the wheat growers themselves. But there is little doubt that a Commonwealth wheat marketing pool will be in operation in a comparatively short time.

A great conference between the Commonwealth and State governments, and the Wheat Growers' Association, decided on the Pool. The Federal Government wants it to be under government control, with a state board in each state operating under a commonwealth board at Canberra, on which the state boards would be represented. The wheat growers want it to be under control of the farmers.

The real difference, however, centers around the government guarantee of a stabilized price for the farmer. The government offered to guarantee 60 cents a bushel for wheat delivered at country siding, the equivalent of $1.08 a bushel f.o.b., for one year only. The wheat growers asked that the guarantee be extended to cover three years. Hon. Parker Macleay, Federal Minister of Markets, said the government could not agree to such a guarantee.

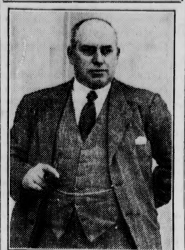

It was seen the scheme for an Australian wheat pool was in operation. But when the pool is established and is working satisfactorily, the government will favorably consider the suggestion of extending the guarantee of price, the minister pointed.

Edmonton.—If the Canadian National Railway and Canadian Pacific Railway companies jointly or individually, will undertake to build a new northern line through the Great Pass, it was revealed here. Three other cases of canine onslaught have been reported by hospital authorities.

Applying For Charter

High Speed Road Bill Is Again Before Alberta House

Edmonton, Alberta.—Supported by an influential petition containing the names of over 5,000 residents of southern and central Alberta, the bill for a charter incorporating Alberta Trackways, Limited, comes before the Alberta legislature this session for the second time. It was introduced by Donald Cameron, U.P.A., Banff.

The bill provides for the incorporation of a company which undertakes to lay concrete highways of not less than 18 feet in width, from Edmonton to Calgary, from Calgary to Banff, and from Calgary to Macleod, Lethbridge and Coulters.

Construction of the trackways is to be commenced within two years, and completed within five years of the securing of the charter.

The idea back of the plan is for a system of safe, speedy, all-weather highways, constructed of concrete between the points indicated, which would enable auto drivers wishing to make the most possible time between these points, to travel on the trackways instead of on the slower and more tortuous provincial highways.

Local toll would be charged each car for the privilege of driving over such trackway and, according to the bill, the toll would be charged to offset the saving in gasoline, wear and tear on car and tires, saving of time.

The promoters are D. F. Whitney and W. D. Milner, of Calgary, and J. W. McDonald, of Macleod, and many other backing is available. In case the legislature this year sees fit to grant the application, the promoters will.

Will Cost Half Million

Manitoba To Extend Highway To Ontario Border

Winnipeg.—Manitoba's road link, which will meet the trans-Canada highway expansion at the Ontario border, will cost the province $250,000. W. H. Chubb, Minister of Public Works, told the legislature today, the road, construction of which will start in the spring, starts from the Whiteshell River, near the village of Whittemouth, and will follow the general direction of the Canadian Pacific railway tracks to the Ontario border.

CONFERENCE TO MEET IN LONDON SEPTEMBER 30

London, England.—Prime Minister MacDonald told the House of Commons that the next meeting of the Imperial Conference will be held in London this autumn. The date for the opening meeting was fixed for September 30.

Ottawa.—Particular interest attaches to the announcement from London that the Imperial Conference will be held this autumn, in view of election possibilities. It has been noted on a number of occasions that the Canadian Government would go to the country this fall, but announcement of the conference casts doubt upon such forecasts.

It is understood here that not only will there be an Imperial Conference, but that an Imperial Economic Conference will take place at the same time. The presence of the Prime Minister will be essential in London. Consequently, if an election is to take place this year, it must be before the opening date of the conference, or after the conference is over. The latter would mean a pretty late election date.

There is no indication at present of what particular subjects Canada will desire to take up at the conference. These will be the subject of much consideration and discussion between now and October. With plans of imminent session, the Prime Minister will have an opportunity to hear what members from different parts of the Dominion have to say on subjects of Empire interest before he departs for London.

MORE INTENSIVE PRODUCTION IS CANADA'S NEED

Regina.—The paramount need for people in every part of the British Empire to adopt a policy of saving, in home products first, Empire products next and foreign products last, if the Empire is to survive the present period of distress and competition, was portrayed vividly and statistically to the Canadian Club by W. A. Wilson, former Regian, who is now Canada's agricultural representative in London, and a member of the Empire Marketing Board.

He referred to the proposals for preferential trade within the Empire and to Lord Beaverbrook's crusade for free trade within the Empire, without taking sides for either proposal, save to point out that Lord Beaverbrook's slogan was not to be taken too literally. His plan, he said, was to get the delegates to the forthcoming economic conference in a frame of mind for action, to work in effective scheme.

Pointing to the great need for intensified production and the opportunity for Canada in the British market, Mr. Wilson pointed out that Great Britain, in 1928, imported 960,000,000 lbs. of bacon, of which only 34 per cent. came from Canada; 665,000,000 lbs. of butter, of which 0.6 per cent. came from Canada; 337,000,000 lbs. of poultry, of which only 5 per cent. came from Canada; and 265,000,000 dozen eggs, of which only 2 came from Canada.

Search In North Ended

Body Of Elson Found In Wreckage Of Plane

Fairbanks, Alaska.—The body of a man, identified as Elson, was found in the wreckage of his plane, 90 miles southeast of Fairbanks, Alaska, Siberia. Pilot Joe Crosson has radioed from the wreckage of his plane, "The Nannik," at North Cape.

Elson and his mechanic, Earl Borland, were lost November 9 last, while flying from Teller, Alaska, to the "Nannik." Borland's body was found first.

Crosson suggested that Elson had been killed instantly as had Borland. He said the bodies of the two fliers would be taken to Fairbanks as soon as possible.

The fliers' plane crashed in the fog while Elson and Borland were on their way to the Fairbanks for a trading ship. The wreckage was found on January 25 by pilots Joe Crosson and Harold Gilliam, who had conducted numerous scouting trips from the "Nannik."

The plane was torn asunder by its impact with the earth, the various parts of the craft being scattered over a wide area. The motor, near which Borland's body was found, was hurled some 100 yards beyond the wreckage, while one wing was broken off 200 feet from where the main portion of the plane came to rest.

London, England.—Miss Madox, with her modern legislation, will find no difficulty in complying with the order compelling motor cycle pillion passengers to ride astride, which is one of the provisions of the road of the transport bill, on which second reading was moved in the House of Commons by Herbert Morrison, the Minister of Transport.

Other provisions of the bill abolish the speed limit for light motor cars, increase the penalties for dangerous driving, fix 16 years as the minimum age of ordinary automobile drivers and 21 as the age for those driving public service vehicles; lay down a maximum number of working hours for drivers of heavy vehicles and enforce compulsory third-party insurance.

Collect your ash, clean wood ashes, and put them in a large, shallow box, so on sunny days your chickens will dust in them. If you will brown and crush egg shells and sprinkle these in the ash, the hens will scratch busily after them. In winter chickens have no opportunity to scratch the soft earth and resent the frozen garden that keeps them from dusting.

Field-Work Power

Spring work comes with a rush—you need power, sure, certain power, hour after hour, day after day, you need it steadily, incessantly from the first furrow to the last seed. The more work to do the quicker you must do it. The more acres to plow, the more land to work—the more your profits of this year's operations depends on POWER.

Put a CATERPILLAR in your field. On the side hills, through loose summer fallow or heavy soft spots it will work harder, steadier, surer, with less trouble and at less expense than any other form of power you can use.
